

Cookie Policy

This website contains cookies. A cookie is a small text file that the visited website saves on a visitor's computer. Cookies are used on many websites to give visitors access to various functions and to facilitate a visitor's navigation on the website in question. Visitors may set their browser so that it automatically declines cookies or so that they are notified that a website contains cookies.

As of July 1, 2011, visitors of a website must, by law, be informed that a website contains cookies, as well as why and how cookies are used on the website. Visitors must also give their consent to the use of cookies before the visited website can place cookies on their computer.

On this website, cookies are used solely to enable your browser to display the selected language version. These cookies are only stored temporarily on your computer and automatically disappear when you close your browser. Because of the technology used on the website, the website does not work without cookies. Your use of the website implies your authorization for the use of cookies and their temporary placement on your computer during your visit to the website.
